STORY OF WEBER COUNTY.

Lying in the heart of that narrow belt of agricultural land which by the process of trrigation has been made to yield bountiful crops of all kinds, where but a few years ago only the gnaried and twisted roots of the sage-brush could survive. Weber county now holds the en-in agricultural and horticultural wealth.

Lands regarded as simost valueless only a short time ago as historical events are recorded, now could not be bought for $300 an acre in some parts of the county.

The real estate values returned for taxation in Weber county this year amount to a grand total of $8,32,511.

Of this amount $1,264,208 in realty is returned from

Viable position of ranking first of the countles of Utah

Ogden city sione. Some portion of the latter is agri-cultural land, but naturally the greater part consists of building lots and realty upon which business blocks and homes are built. The balance of $2,128,300 represents almost valuely lands ourside of the city limits which are devoted to raising crops of all kinds.

SUGAR BEETS MONEY CROP.

SUGAR BEETS MONEY CROP.

The wonderful climate of this portion of the state makes it adaptable to marry every error known in the western country. The "honey crop" of Weber country is its sugar beets. The growing of sugar beets in Weber country is almost a new enterprise, yet it is estimated that over one-half of the acreage of agricultural lands is planted in this crop every season. Thousands of dollars are paid annually to the farmers of the country for their beets, which are iside to be the finest grown in the west. They are delivered to the factory of the Amagamated Sugar company at Oxforn, where they are passed through the presses and from which the finest grade of beet sugar is manufactured.

The sugar beet glower is not the only farmer who reams a bountful harvest from mother earth each year. A day's travel through Weber county will show the visitor acres and notes of land devoted to the raising of tomatoes, cherries, peaches, apricots and other fruits and vegetables. Ogden ofly is the market of this produce, and at seasons of the year the market of this produce, and at seasons of the year the market quotifiens show that garden truck and fruits of all kinds can be bought here cheaper than at any other market in the state. So great is the supply each season that the surplus fruit and vegetables grown in Weber county is amply sufficient after stocking the market to keep in operation sixteen canning factories, which ship canned fruit and vegetables to nearly every big market in the season.

WEALTHY SECTION OF WEST.

By leaps and bounds Weber county has grown to be one of the wealthlest sections of the west. To a large extent this growth is accountable to its agricultural wealth, although the city of Ogden and vicinity received its early growth by reason of having been made the junctional point of the great Harriman system of railroads which span the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. Property values for Weber county returned for taxation this year reach a total of $15,128, 235. Of this amount $12,207,124 was returned from Ogden city alone. The property returned for taxation by the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Benver & Bio Grande, Salt Lake & Ogden and the Northwestern Raitroad companies reaches a grand total of $2,155,221. This does not include rolling stock, but only buildings, real estate and equipment used in handling trains through the county.

ABOUT OGDEN.

Ogden, the county seat of Weber county, and preperly called the Junction City because of the network of railroads which center here, has a natural commercial location which in time must make it the distributing point for much of the rapidly opening western country. The basis of the town is its railroad activity and the Harriman roads, the Gregon Short Line the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific having their joint shops and freight and passenger depots located here, as well as the Gould line, the Denver & Rio Grande, and the Ramberger line, the Salt Lake & Ogden, make Ogden a railroad center.

vanis, the placing of "umbrella" sheds and subways in the passenger vard, making it impossible for a passenger to step on the tracks of the railroad; this, with the completion of the magnificent Twenty-fourth streat viaduct, will make the Ogden vard one of the safest to operate in the country. A new passenger car shop will be erected on the site of the present freight station and if has for some time been contemplated to creet a wheel and brakeshoe foundry here. Where the old work whose will be cast instead of shipping them to Denver and shipping the new ones back again. Because of the recent washouts on the fills across Great Sait Lake it has been decided by the Southern Pacific afficials to double-track all these and raise them some five feet; the lake has risen nine feet afnec the cutoff was built and it is estimated that it will take from 16,900 to 15,000 cars of rock to fill in the embankments washed away by the heavy sait water, and with the further improvement work of double-tracking and raising the total cost will approximate $1,000,000.

WHAT GOULD SYSTEM IS DOING.

WHAT GOULD SYSTEM IS DOING.

WHAT GOULD SYSTEM IS DOING.

The Denver & Rie Grande and Western Pacific are contemplating the erection of a joint freight depot large enough to handle the traffic of both roads at the site lately acquired by them between Wall avenue and Lincoln, extending from their tracks to Twenty-fourth street. They have already installed conveniently located down tracks on this property, and the location is a very advantageous one, being in the heart of the whole-sale district and convenient for the receint and deplication of the land some new passenger equipment has already arrived and will be put in commission within the next few weeks. Several undisclosed property purchases in the heart of the town would indicate there was some basis for the rumors which are prevalent bere that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad is coming into Ogden from the north. It is a well known fact that surveyors have been working through Wyoming and Utah and have run preliminary lines over several feasible routes into this city, and with the advent of railroad construction activity in the near future this project will probably be une of the first to materialize.

OGDEN RAPID TRANSIT.

OGDEN RAPID TRANSIT.

A history of the growth and development of Weber county would be incomplete were not the building achievements of the Ogden Rapid Transit company given mention. Several years age David Ercles and his nescociates built the electric street milway system by that name. Since that time the service has been injured from time to time, as the city has grown, and new extensions made. The past year witnessed the completion of the extension through Ogden canyon, which is conceded to be one of the pretitest stretches of monitorian senery in the west. The line now ends at the Hermitage hotel, but before another year the officials of the company say that they will push on through the canyon until Huntsville, Eden and the other little towns in the eastern valleys are linked with Ogden by an effective line. A few months had clapsed before the company completed its extension from Ogden to Phin City, an agricultural section of Weber county. Now it is announced that the Utah Hot Springs line, which ferminates ten miles north of Ogden, will be extension to Figham City, the metropolis of Box Elder county, and actual work is now heling done on this line. When this line is completed the next extension to be made will connect the Logan Rapid Transit company, now in operation in the county seat of Cache county. This much has been announced by the officials of the company, and it is not denied that in a few years the electric line will be connected with the farger towns in the northern part of the zinte and that seation corrected with a network of electric lines all controlled and operated by the owners of the Ogden Rapid Transit company.

MINING INDUSTRY.

The mining industry of Weber country is yet in its infancy. Yet in a few more years, from the present prispects, the mineral wealth of this section will have reached a highly developed stage. Fen miles to the north of Ogden, on the border line of Box Ether country, there are properties in what is known as the Sterra-Madre district which have been shown by assays to constain high values in gold, copper and silver-lead. In one of the properties in this district, known as the Napoleon-Maghera mine, owned by Dan Maguire of Ogden and eastern capitalists, considerable preliminary work has been done in addition to the construction of a tunnel several innulved feet which will soon be completed, when the owners of the mine will begin taking over from the mine. This will necessitate the opening of the old smelter, several miles away, or the building of an entirely new plant for the voncentration of the over.

GREAT PIPE LINE.

GREAT PIPE LINE

Perhaps the most gigamise enterprise ever attempted in the west is the construction of the mainmost pipe line and power station in Weber canson, which will in a short time be completed and put in operation. The pipe line and, power station is being built by the Utal Light & Rallway company, with P. J. Meran of Salt Lake and the J. P. O'Nelli Construction company of Ogden in charge of the work. The pipe line, which has been finished for several months, is one of the largest in the world. For nearly a mile this conduit carries a routinuous capacity of water from the Weber river sufficient for 35,000 horse power turbine. The pipe line is constructed of solid concrete for a large part of the way and immense stayes glided with broad steel bands. At the intake the pipe is about statem feet in diameter, amply large for a man on horseback to ride into the entrance without inconvenience. The work on the power station is progressing, and it is now a matter of weeks before the electric power generated at the plant will
